General

Authors submitting texts for publication are asked to strictly follow the guidelines provided below. The British variant of English is preferred. Even if a text has been provisionally accepted for publication, it cannot proceed to publication, unless it is compliant with the guidelines.

1. Structure and layout

1.1.. Formatting guidelines

The basic unit of the text is a standardised page of approx. 1800 characters in 30 lines, approx. 60 characters in each line. This makes it possible to establish the amount of text in larger standard units used in Polish publishing (40 000 characters, approx. 22.2 standardised pages).

Please mark each paragraph with an indent in the first line (standard tab 1.25 cm), NOT with a space between paragraphs. Do not use automatic list numbering or bulleted lists, non-standard tabs, indents or spacing, etc.

In order to create a standardised page, choose File > Format.

1.2. Abstract

Please include an abstract at the beginning.

Heading: Times New Roman, font size 10, single spacing, bold

Text: Times New Roman, font size 10, single spacing, italics

Abstract: In the recent years

1.3. Titles and headings

Main title in capital letters. Format: bold, 14 Times New Roman:

Relations between the European Union and the United States: Cooperation, Competition or Confrontation?

Headings numbered with Arabic numerals, bold, no italics, font size 12, Times New Roman;
Introduction and Conclusions headings – without numbering.

In titles and subtitles within the text – no capitals, except for the first word – unless the proper name or phrase is written with capital letters as a rule.

NOTE: Do not put a full stop at the end of titles and subtitles (but other punctuation marks are possible):

Introduction

1. New tendencies in EU law

2. Community Migration Policy – what way forward?

Please insert one empty line between the title and the text:

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

2. New tendencies in EU law

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

But do not insert the empty line after minor subtitles (only 1.5 spacing):

2.2. New tendencies in EU law

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

2. Footnotes

2.1. General

Please use footnotes (not endnotes) with subsequent numbering, in Arabic numerals. Footnote number in the text should be written after a punctuation mark (full stop, coma, semicolon).

Footnote format: Times New Roman, font size 10, spacing 1.0

Please always put a full stop at the end of a footnote. Provide only the first letter of the author's name. The editor's name should be provided after the title.

Places of publication should be provided in the original language (Warszawa, London). Titles should be quoted in original, with the translation into English in brackets if necessary when quoted for the first time. English translations of titles should be capitalised.

Please note that you need a page number or other locator if you are quoting a precise part of a large work, but you can skip it if the reference is to the work as a whole; edition numbers are not required if you are referring to a first edition but are required for all subsequent editions.

2.2. Examples

Book sources should be quoted as follows:

D. Philipott, Revolutions in Sovereignty. How Ideas Shaped Modern International Relations, Princeton, NJ 2001.

P. Craig and G. de Burca, EU Law Text Cases Materials, 5th ed., Oxford 2011.

J. Smith and G. Gardner, European Integration, Berlin-London 1994, pp. 321-367.

W. Warecki and K. Bilak (eds.), W stronę Europy (Towards Europe), Gliwice 1991, chapter V.

Edited book chapters should be quoted as follows:

N. de Sadeleer, Procedures for Derogations from the Principle of Approximation of Laws under Article 95 EC, “Common Market Law Review”, No. 40/2003, p. 911.

Where necessary, You can write ‘Spring’ or ‘Vol. 2’ instead of ‘No.’

We do not recommend using abbreviations instead of full names of periodicals. If a periodical uses an official abbreviation for its name, please use the proper abbreviation.

Working papers/ policy papers/ conference papers should be quoted as follows.

A. Alemanno, The Shaping of European Risk Regulation by Community Courts, “EUI Working Paper LAW”, No. 2007/21.

J. Paul, EU Foreign Policy After Lisbon: Will the New High Representative and the External Action Service Make a Difference?, “CAP Policy Analysis”, No. 2/2008, p. 37.

The Treaty of Lisbon: A Second Look at the Institutional Innovations, “Joint CEPS, Egmont, EPC Study”, Brussels 2010, pp. 63-84.

Names of university publishing houses should be written in original:

“EUI Working Paper LAW”, No. 2007/21
“Zeszyty naukowe Uniwersytetu Warszawskiego”

In case of repeating footnotes:

If the repeating footnotes are provided one after another, write:

⁴ Ibidem, p.56.

If the footnote is repeated elsewhere in the text, write:

²³ A. Kowalski, op.cit., p.27. or ²³ Cf. A. Kowalski, op.cit.

If You quote more than one work by a given author, make it clear which work You refer to:

⁴³ A. Kowalski, Historia integracji ..., op.cit., pp. 29-41.

Websites should be quoted as follows:

<http://europa.eu.int/comm/competition/publications/studies/bpifrs/chap02.pdf> (last visited + date).

All HYPERLINKS must be removed.

2.2. Introductory signals in footnotes

e.g. or See, e.g. The authority cited provides qualified support for the proposition or is one of several supporting the proposition in the text.

cf. The authority cited provides a useful contrast to illustrate the proposition in the text.

See: or See especially: The authority cited is the strongest of several which support the proposition in the text.

See also: The authority cited provides added, additional qualified, or general support for the proposition in the text.

See generally: The authority cited gives background information on the topic discussed in the text.

But see: The authority cited partially disagrees with the proposition in the text.

Against: The authority cited directly contradicts the proposition in the text.

(No signal): The authority cited is directly quoted or states the proposition made in the text.

NOTE: After cf. or e.g. there is no “:” (no colon)

2.3. References to case-law and legal acts

European cases:

References to European cases should include case number and European Court Reports (ECR) citation (if available) For example:

C-157/94 Commission v. The Netherlands [1997] ECR I-5699, par. 45.
5/69 Franz Volk v. Establissemments J. Vervaecke [1969] ECR 295.

European Court of Human Rights:

Decisions of the European Court of Human Rights should always be cited using the relevant reference in the official reports (Series A) and, if possible, also the European Human Rights Reports. For example:

Young, James and Webster v UK, Series A no 44 (1982) 4 EHRR 38.

Domestic cases:

Domestic cases should be quoted in the original form.

Legal acts: secondary EU law:

In the case of regulations and decisions of the Commission, please provide the page number(s) after the number.

Regulation (EC) No. 1365/2006 on statistics of goods transport by inland waterways and repealing Council Directive 80/1119/EEC, OJ 2006 L 264/1.

NOTE: OJ should be written without full stops.

Polish law:

The names of Polish legal acts should be provided in the Polish language. Please provide a translation into English in brackets when you quote the act for the first time.

Dziennik Ustaw (Journal of Laws) of 2001, No. 23, Item 4.

National law of other countries:

In the case of other languages, please provide original titles of legal acts and their translation into English. You can skip the translation into English in case of French, German or Spanish legal acts.

Documents:

Please do not italicise documents titles. In case of a specific title please use a single quotation mark.

Communication from the Commission concerning the prolongation of the application of the framework on State aid to shipbuilding, OJ 2012 C 357/1

'European governance – A white paper', COM(2001) 0428 final.

Opinion of the Committee of the Regions on the White Paper on European governance, OJ 2002 C 192/24-31.

3. Style

3.1. Spelling

Please use British English spelling wherever possible. The 'ise' form should be used for words such as 'modernise', 'civilise', 'organise', and the '-se' form for 'analyse'.

Prefixes such as 'co-' should be written with a hyphen: 'co-operation', except for the quoted titles and set expressions where they are written otherwise.

If you use a dictionary which includes other forms (e.g. an Oxford dictionary), be sure to use the British spellings.

'Per cent' is preferred in the text, but can be abbreviated to '%' in the footnotes. Exceptionally if you are referring to a large amount of statistical data in the text then you may use %.

In the text, references to other chapters should be in the form 'chapter one' rather than 'Chapter 1'; in the footnotes this can be chapter 1 etc.

3.2. Foreign words and abbreviations

Foreign words and abbreviations in the main text (especially Latin) should be italicised, e.g.: inter alia, circa, prima facie, etc., de facto, acquis communautaire.

English abbreviations such as 'e.g.' and 'i.e.' should NOT be italicised.

Foreign words and abbreviations if used in the footnotes should NOT be italicised, e.g.: ibidem, op.cit., cf.

3.3. Foreign names

Foreign proper names should always be provided in original, with a translation into English in a footnote or in brackets, after the original name

Foreign names of persons, institutions and places, including names of courts, are not italicised. Capitalisation follows the practice of the language. e.g. Cour de cassation, Conseil d'Etat, Bayerisches Staatsministerium der Justiz.

3.4. Quotations

Quotations in the text should be provided in italics and single quotation marks (typical for British English):

'India has undergone globalisation for over 250 years already'.

3.5. Numbers

Numbers under 10 should be written in words.

Figures should be used:

- (a) for numbers over nine;
- (b) when the material contains a sequence of stated quantities, numbers, ages, etc (example: children in the 7-12 age group);
- (c) for numbers of sections, clauses, paragraphs etc; and
- (d) wherever words would appear clumsy.

3.6. Dates

Dates appearing in the text should be given in the style: 1 January 1993 and 1990s (NB not 1990's).

HOWEVER in footnotes please use the following form: 08.12.2008.

3.7. The use of capital letters – examples
